BIOGRAPHY

Ben Kniffen has spent the last 15 years helping businesses grow. As a lifelong entrepreneur, he's founded and exited multiple companies, coached thousands of teams, and shared his insights with more than 900,000 professionals around the world through his talks and webinars.

He started the first outbound LinkedIn marketing agency of its kind—back when few people realized the platform's potential for business development. Since then, Ben has worked with over 2,000 companies to strengthen their sales, marketing, and growth strategies, helping generate more than a quarter of a billion dollars in new revenue.

A 4-time Inc. 5000 award recipient, Ben is driven by a passion for helping businesses turn potential into predictable growth.
