BIOGRAPHY

Charles Marshall is one of the funniest and most original humorous motivational speakers working today. His energetic delivery and insightful observations have captivated over one thousand audiences over the past two decades, including many Fortune 500 companies. Charles offers a wide variety of exciting programs that are guaranteed to entertain, educate, and inspire your crowd. He has over 25 years of full-time experience as a professional motivational speaker. He is author of four books including The Seven Powers of Success and Shattering the Glass Slipper. He produced and performed in two full-length stand-up comedy videos, Fully Animated (1998) and I'm Just Sayin'! (2007). He worked for over 10 years as a professional stand-up comedian. He is married with two adult-ish kids.

In addition to his reputation for excellence and originality as keynote speaker, Charles is also known for his ability to produce roll-in-the-aisles humor while avoiding all vulgarities and obscenities. He is one of an extremely select group of corporate speakers in the country today that specializes in providing only clean humor. He is able to reinforce his humor with poignant insights and salient tips that your audience members will immediately connect with. He is adept at engaging his audience's attention with humor and then driving his point home with a powerful and potent message.

Charles is the founder and president of M Power Resources, a company dedicated to providing growth resources for business and individuals. He has over 20 years of full-time experience as a motivational speaker and comedian and is recognized amongst meeting planners as one of the best humorous keynote speakers for any corporate event. Charles is truly a craftsman who designs each event to meet the needs of his host. With his contagious humor, outrageous insight, and refreshing perspective, Charles has become a major force among corporate speakers today.
