Darren Mitchell, PWS
Environmental Manager
Farnsworth Group

BIOGRAPHY

Darren Mitchell currently leads a growing Environmental Compliance Group at Farnsworth Group in St. Louis. He has more than 22 years of experience as an environmental consultant, specializing in environmental compliance and permitting for federal, state, and private-sector clients. Originally from Nashville, Tennessee, Darren earned a Master of Science in Biology from the University of Memphis and an MBA from Webster University. Darren is a Professional Wetland Scientist (PWS) and currently serves as President of the Central Chapter of the Society of Wetland Scientists. Over the past five years, he has supported the development of numerous utility-scale solar projects, and he is excited to lead a discussion on soil stability for these unique projects.
